COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 20.—After searching the Union Clothing company building for an hour and a half, police failed to find any trace of the four men who, according to a night watchman, blew a safe in the building this morning.

ERNEST WEILER ESCAPES IN CAR ACCIDENT SUNDAY

Machine Turns Over Near Westfall; 4 Wrecks Reported On Detour.

Ernest Weiler, 16, escaped injury early Sunday morning when his new Essex coupe in which he was riding, turned over on the Yellowbud-pk., at Westfall. It took him some time before he could extricate himself from the car which lay on its side in a ditch. He finally managed to crawl out through the back window.

At that early hour in the morning, there were few motorists on the road and those that were, refused to help him, and he had to walk to Circleville for aid at the Circleville Motors Co., which sent their wreck car to pull the Essex over and into the road.

There were four wrecks on the Columbus detour between Dave Six's and Ashville Sunday night. None of them was believed to be serious, but traffic was tied up for a time until the cars that were piled up in the narrow road could be moved.

The dust on the detours Sunday was so thick that it was impossible to pass a car ahead, lest there be a car near, hidden by the clouds of dust.

The soldiers in charge of the corn borer quarantine, and stationed on the Jackson-pk., were so covered with dust, that their faces looked like brown masks with the whites of their eyes gleaming through.

The entire county needs a heavy rain, both for the crops and the dust that has been terrific the past few days.

100,000 TO SEE SMITH ACCEPT NOMINATION

New York Governor Ready For Big Event of His Life Wednesday Night.

By THOMAS L. STOKES

United Press Staff Correspondent. ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The mammoth celebration that some 100,000 Democrats and citizens of Albany will put on for Gov. Alfred E. Smith when he is notified formally Wednesday night of his nomination will be a political anniversary celebration as well for the Democratic nominee.

It was just at this time, 25 years ago, that as a rising young Tammany member, who was showing a talent for politics as well as the stage, young "Al" Smith, as he was popularly called, was nominated by the Democrats for assemblyman from the second Manhattan district.

That was the beginning of a career here in the capitol that led four times to the governor's chair and will go a step further Wednesday night when Democrats of the whole country will clothe him formally with the highest honor they can bestow.

He won that election, defeating Paul Kaminsky, and thus started a series of victories which has been interrupted but once, a career similar to that of Calvin Coolidge, retiring president of the United States.

There is an old story of that nomination. Young "Al" then 25, sat one afternoon in the commissioner of jurors' office, where he held a small political job. One of the lesser officials of the Tammany organization came into the office.

He surprised the young man by asking him if the suit he wore was the only one he had. Smith nodded.

"Well, hurry home and get it pressed," the Tammany official said. "You're going to be nominated for the assembly tonight."

As is the way with human kind, the Democratic nominee is thinking much of those early days now, in these hours before he takes upon himself, officially, the mantle of his party in a national campaign.

HOOVER MOVES INTO FARMERS' SECTOR TODAY

For Four Days He Will Discuss Tariff, Waterways, Agricultural Relief.

BY PAUL R. MALLON,

United Press Staff Correspondent. ABOARD HOOVER SPECIAL TRAIN NEARING DODGE CITY, KANS., Aug. 20.—Herbert Hoover moved into the farm belt today for four days of transient conferences about his tariff, waterways, marketing and farm relief plan.

Senator Arthur Capper, the influential Kansas agricultural editor, and David Mulvane, Republican national committee member of Kansas, were to be the advance guard of the farm legions, boarding the train at Dodge City for the trip across Kansas.

At nearly every one of the numerous stops some of the farm leaders or representatives of congress are expected aboard to give the nominee his first direct reaction from the disturbed agricultural area since he laid down his anti-McNary-Haugen bill relief project in his California acceptance speech.

Arrangements also were made for him to speak to the farmers at five towns stretched across Kansas—Dodge City, Hutchinson, Newton, Emporia and Topeka. They are to be brief five minute get-together speeches from the rear of the train.

Representative Tincher, co-author of the Capper-Tincher farm bill is due aboard at Hutchinson and William Allen White, jr., son of the Emporia publisher, has wired he wants to see the nominee for a moment at Emporia.

Tonight at Kansas City, Hoover will be greeted by Mayor Albert I. Beach and a Republican delegation. They will confer with him briefly about the local political situation.

Hoover also will meet there his second son, Herbert Hoover, Jr., who is joining the party so the whole family may be present at the birthplace celebration for the nominee tomorrow at West Branch, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and their two sons will spend tomorrow surveying the old native village before Hoover makes his farm speech in a tent there tomorrow night. The following two days will be spent in conferences with farm editors, leaders and farmers at Cedar Rapids.

The nominee is well pleased with his first stumping campaign trip, now four days ago. From his pacifying Boulder Dam speech in Los Angeles Friday to his true negotiations between Republican factions in New Mexico Sunday, the candidate considers his trip has been more necessary than he thought it could be.

U. S. PLANE IS THOUGHT DOWN IN FAR NORTH

Last Faint Signal Heard From Oceanic Plane at 4. A. M. On Sunday.

The American plane Greater Rockford, flying from Cochrane, Ont., to Mt. Evans, Greenland, is down somewhere in the far north it appeared certain today.

Bert Hassell, and Parker D. Cramer, making the second section of their projected flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden, with stops at Cochrane, Mt. Evans and Reykjavik, Iceland, left Cochrane at 12:12 p. m. EST, Saturday.

Their radio kept the world advised of their progress across the Labrador peninsula towards Davis Strait, the 500 mile stretch of sea between North America and their goal.

Then the signals faded out. The last word, a faint signal believed to have been from the plane, was heard at 4 a. m. EST Sunday. It indicated they were out over Davis Strait, nearly 100 miles from land. At that time, they had been gone nearly 16 hours and were approximately 400 miles from their goal.

Their location indicated by the signal was about the position the plane should have been in at that hour, judging from their earlier progress from Cochrane. They had hoped to make the 1600 miles from Cochrane to Mt. Evans in about 18 hours, but apparently weather conditions slowed their speed.

The plane carried gasoline sufficient to last about 30 hours. The last word received at 4:12 p. m. EST, Sunday, at 9:12 p. m. EST, Prof. W. H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan expedition at Mt. Evans, reported no news of the fliers.

At 9:12 EST today, the plane had been gone 45 hours.

Hope was not abandoned, however. If they came down in Davis Strait the iceberg-strewn stretch between North America and Greenland, their chance of survival was small. Their Stinson-Detroiter was a land plane and the rubber boat they carried would be their only hope.

It seemed easily possible, however, that they crossed the strait and unable to locate Mt. Evans, made a forced landing in Greenland. The weather was good and such a landing might have been made at the water's edge near some native settlement. They could also have alighted on the Greenland ice-cap, which hovers the interior and doubtless affords surface smooth enough for a landing.

In either event, it might be days or weeks before the news reached civilization. There is no communication system in Greenland save a few scattered wireless outfits. The United Press received its word of the fliers' failure to arrive by radio from the wireless station at Julianabab, which can communicate with Mt. Evans. The Danish government, wireless, the Canadian government wireless amateur stations and other sources were constantly on the alert for news, but all this morning reports came "heard nothing."

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK.

Aug. 20.—The American plane Greater Rockford has failed to reach Mt. Evans, Greenland, on its attempted flight from Cochrane, Ont.

At 3:10 a. m. today, Danish time, (9:10 p. m. Sunday, EST), the University of Michigan scientific expedition at Mt. Evans had seen or heard nothing of the fliers. The discouraging word from Prof. W. H. Hobbs, leader of the expedition, was radioed to the Greenland station at Julianabab and relayed by radio here.

ON WESTERN TRIP

Frank Clendennen and Robert F. Norris left Saturday, on a motor trip through the west. Their first stop will be at Ault, Colo., where they will visit relatives of Mr. Clendennen. After a few days there, they will drive on to Denver, Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, the Grand Canyons and many other points of interest. They expect to be gone about four weeks.

FORMER LOCAL BOY DIES IN CAR ACCIDENT

Body of John W. Fox, 17, Killed In Plattsburg, N. Y., Is Brought Here.

John W. Fox, 17, formerly of this city, was killed in an automobile collision at Plattsburg, N. Y., Saturday afternoon, according to word received here.

The press account says: "John Fox, of 375 English-st., Columbus, was killed when a roadster in which he was riding, was forced from the highway and overturned, pinning him beneath the wrecked machine."

The car was driven by Sylvester Bova, his brother-in-law. The latter was slightly injured. The accident was caused when one of the two colliding autos hit the side of Bova's car, forcing it into a ditch.

The victim was 17 years of age. He was born in this city, and was the son of Isaac and Maud Muma-w Fox.

The boy made his home with his mother in Columbus. The press dispatch says that the young man left home against the advice of his mother.

Besides his parents, he is survived by two brothers, Robert and William and one sister, Mrs. Helen Bova of Columbus.

The remains were brought to this city Monday afternoon and was taken by Funeral Director M. S. Rinehart to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Lane on E. Ohio-st.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., at the Christian Union church, Rev. O. L. Ferguson officiating.

Announce Marriage Of Freddie Grim, Ohio State Gridder

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 20.—Fred Grim, 23, son of D. A. Grim, Toledo, and one of the outstanding stars of the Ohio State University football team during the last three years, was married secretly in Springfield, O., last week, the bride announced Monday.

According to Mrs. Grim the wedding took place in Springfield last week in order to escape friends in Columbus who knew of the impending nuptials. They were attended by "Bill" Hunt, Toledo, a former star athlete at Ohio State, and a fraternity brother of Grim. Mrs. Hunt was the other attendant.

Grim will graduate at Ohio State two weeks hence at the end of the summer session.

"Greater Rockford" Plane Missing

Copenhagen, Denmark, Aug. 20.—The fate of the American plane, "Greater Rockford," and its two fliers, enroute from Rockford, Ill., to Copenhagen, remained a mystery today. Nothing has been seen or heard of the fliers, who are hours overdue today, on their flight from Cochrane, Ont., to Mt. Evans, Greenland, the second leg of the oceanic flight. Bert Hassell and Parker D. Cramer are occupants of the plane.

100,000 TO SEE SMITH ACCEPT NOMINATION

New York Governor Ready For Big Event of His Life Wednesday Night.

By THOMAS L. STOKES
United Press Staff Correspondent.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 20.—The mammoth celebration that some 100,000 Democrats and citizens of Albany will put on for Gov. Alfred E. Smith when he is notified formally Wednesday night of his nomination will be a political anniversary celebration as well for the Democratic nominee.

It was just at this time, 25 years ago, that as a rising young Tammany member, who was showing a talent for politics as well as the stage, young "Al" Smith, as he was popularly called, was nominated by the Democrats for assemblyman from the second Manhattan district.

That was the beginning of a career here in the capitol that led four times to the governor's chair and will go a step further Wednesday night when Democrats of the whole country will clothe him formally with the highest honor they can bestow.

He won that election, defeating Paul Kaminsky, and thus started a series of victories which has been interrupted but once, a career similar to that of Calvin Coolidge, retiring president of the United States.

There is an old story of that nomination. Young "Al" then 25, sat one afternoon in the commission of jurors' office, where he held a small political job. One of the lesser officials of the Tammany organization came into the office.

He surprised the young man by asking him if the suit he wore was the only one he had. Smith nodded.

"Well, hurry home and get it pressed," the Tammany official said. "You're going to be nominated for the assembly tonight."

As is the way with human kind, the Democratic nominee is thinking much of those early days now, in these hours before he takes upon himself, officially, the mantle of his party in a national campaign.

IRVIN THOMAS IS CUT WHILE PLAYING

Irvin Thomas, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Thomas of 406 E. Franklin-st., was severely cut while playing in the back yard of his home Monday at noon. He fell out of a tree, striking his left hip on the end of a sharp board. It was feared that he had cut an artery and the child lost a great deal of blood before a doctor could be called.

Dr. D. V. Courtwright arrived at once, and was forced to take four stitches in the wound, before the flow of blood was stopped. The little boy was still very weak late Monday afternoon, from the loss of blood.

GOEBEL MAKES BIG NON-STOP COUNTRY TRIP

Ends Flight From Los Angeles To New York Successfully Today.

CURTIS FIELD, L. I., Aug. 20.—Art Goebel, winner of the Dole flight to Honolulu last year, arrived at Curtiss Field today, completing a non-stop flight across the country from Los Angeles.

Flying a Lockheed monoplane, the Yankee Doodle, Goebel and Harry Tucker, owner of the plane, completed the flight in record time. They were in the air only 17 hours and 58 minutes, breaking by several hours the transcontinental record of 26 hours and 50 minutes set in 1928 by MacReady and Kelley, the Dayton, O., army fliers.

Goebel and Tucker had left Los Angeles Sunday at 12:10 p. m. (4:10 EDT).

Their flying time was at least three hours better than they had anticipated when they started out. In Los Angeles Goebel said he hoped to complete the coast-to-coast flight in 21 hours.

HOOVER MOVES INTO FARMERS' SECTOR TODAY

For Four Days He Will Discuss Tariff, Waterways, Agricultural Relief.

BY PAUL R. MALLON,

United Press Staff Correspondent
ABOARD HOOVER SPECIAL TRAIN NEARING DODGE CITY, KANS., Aug. 20.—Herbert Hoover moved into the farm belt today for four days of transient conferences about his tariff, waterways, marketing and farm relief plan.

Senator Arthur Capper, the influential Kansas agricultural editor, and David Mulvane, Republican national committee chairman of Kansas, were to be the advance guard of the farm legions, boarding the train at Dodge City for the trip across Kansas.

At nearly every one of the numerous stops some of the farm leaders or representatives of congress are expected aboard to give the nominee his first direct reaction from the disturbed agricultural area since he laid down his anti-McNary-Haugen bill relief project in his California acceptance speech.

Arrangements also were made for him to speak to the farmers at five towns stretched across Kansas—Dodge City, Hutchinson, Newton, Emporia and Topeka. They are to be brief five minute get-together speeches from the rear of the train.

Representative Tinch, co-author of the Capper-Tinch farm bill is due aboard at Hutchinson and William Allen White, Jr., son of the Emporia publisher, has wired he wants to see the nominee for a moment at Emporia.

Tonight at Kansas City, Hoover will be greeted by Mayor Albert I. Beach and a Republican delegation. They will confer with him briefly about the local political situation.

Hoover also will meet there his second son, Herbert Hoover, Jr., who is joining the party so the whole family may be present at the birthplace celebration for the nominee tomorrow at West Branch, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover and their two sons will spend tomorrow surveying the old native village before Hoover makes his farm speech in a tent there tomorrow night. The following two days will be spent in conferences with farm editors, leaders and farmers at Cedar Rapids.

The nominee is well pleased with his first stumping campaign trip, now four days ago. From his pacifying Boulder Dam speech in Los Angeles Friday to his true negotiations between Republican factions in New Mexico Sunday, the candidate considers his trip has been more necessary than he thought it could be.

Circleville Is Represented At Big Ohio Meeting Starting Saturday.

Delegates from the auxiliary to Howard Post American Legion, Circleville, were guests Sunday afternoon at the tea at the Fort Hayes hotel, Columbus, when the members of all the units of Columbus entertained the visitors to the 10th annual convention of the auxiliary to the American Legion of Ohio.

Local unit has headquarters in Room 860 at the Neil House where they are receiving their guests. Those from Circleville who attended the convention Sunday were Mrs. A. A. Parrett, Mrs. B. T. Hedges, Mrs. N. O. Fry, Mrs. John Fry, Mrs. George R. Hassell, Miss Margaret Shea and Miss Anna Shea.

Mrs. Brunelle P. Downing, Mrs. Howard Jones, Mrs. Paul Betz and Mrs. A. W. Holman will attend the Monday session. Mrs. Parrett and Mrs. Hedges remained for the entire convention.

Mrs. Parrett attended the luncheon at the Neil House Monday for the past presidents.

Columbus is an ideal host to the conventioners, the Neil House being devoted to the Auxiliary while the Legionnaires are making the Deshler-Wallick their headquarters and the Chittenden is being host to the 40 or 8.

Legionnaires from Circleville who attended Sunday sessions were Edward C. Ebert, Captain Chas. S. Gusman, George Leist, Norman Ralston, Lawrence Johnson and Milton Friedman.

FATALITIES AT CHILLICOTHE ON WEEK-END MOUNT

One Man Suicides While Two Children Meet Deaths In Accidents.

Three fatalities occurred near Chillicothe, Sunday. James Ralston, 33, Huntington-twp., was found dead in the woods a mile from his home by members of his family. He had been missing since Friday morning. At his side lay a revolver. Ralston had been ordered to report to the sheriff today because a sled, which he said had been used to haul a still, was in Ralston's barn.

It is believed Ralston killed himself.

County officials were dragging the Scioto river tonight for the body of Robert Thatcher, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Thatcher, who was drowned Saturday afternoon while swimming.

Betty Jane, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stauffer, east of the city, suffered fatal injuries this afternoon when struck by a truck as it was backed out of a shed near the house.

TO KEEP HOOVER HOME WEST BRANCH, Ia.

Following reports that Mrs. Herbert Hoover wished to buy her husband's birthplace here, Mrs. Jennie Scellars, owner of the property, announced she would not sell it.

U. S. PLANE IS THOUGHT DOWN IN FAR NORTH

Last Faint Signal Heard From Oceanic Plane at 4. A. M. On Sunday.

The American plane Greater Rockford, flying from Cochrane, Ont., to Mt. Evans, Greenland, is down somewhere in the far north it appeared certain today.

Bert Hassell, and Parker D. Cramer, making the second section of their projected flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden, with stops at Cochrane, Mt. Evans and Reykjavik, Iceland, left Cochrane at 12:12 p. m. EST, Saturday.

Their radio kept the world advised of their progress across the Labrador peninsula towards Davis Strait, the 500 mile stretch of sea between North America and their goal.

Then the signals faded out. The last word, a faint signal believed to have been from the plane was heard at 4 a. m. EST Sunday. It indicated they were out over Davis Strait, nearly 100 miles from land. At that time, they had been gone nearly 16 hours and were approximately 400 miles from their goal. Their location indicated by the signal was about the position the plane should have been in at that hour, judging from their earlier progress from Cochrane. They had hoped to make the 1600 miles from Cochrane to Mt. Evans in about 18 hours, but apparently weather conditions slowed their speed.

The plane carried gasoline sufficient to last about 30 hours. The 90 hours sailed at 6:12 p. m. EST, Sunday. At 9:10 p. m., Prof. W. H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan expedition at Mt. Evans, reported no news of the fliers.

At 9:12 EST today, the plane had been gone 45 hours.

Hope was not abandoned, however. If they came down in Davis Strait the iceberg-strewn stretch between North America and Greenland, their chance of survival was small. Their Stinson-Detroit was a land plane and the rubber boat they carried would be their only hope.

It seemed easily possible, however, that they crossed the strait and unable to locate Mt. Evans, made a forced landing in Greenland. The weather was good and such a landing might have been made at the water's edge near some native settlement. They could also have alighted on the Greenland ice-cap, which hovers the interior and doubtless affords surface smooth enough for a landing.

In either event, it might be days or weeks before the news reached civilization. There is no communication system in Greenland save a few scattered wireless outfits. The United Press received its word of the fliers failure to arrive by radio from the wireless station at Julianahab, which can communicate with Mt. Evans. The Danish government wireless, the Canadian government wireless amateur stations and other sources were constantly on the alert for news, but all this morning reports came "heard nothing."

COPENHAGEN, DENMARK, Aug. 20.—The American plane Greater Rockford has failed to reach Mt. Evans, Greenland, on its attempted flight from Cochrane, Ont.

At 3:10 a. m. today, Danish time, (9:10 p. m. Sunday, EST), the University of Michigan scientific expedition at Mt. Evans had seen or heard nothing of the fliers. The discouraging word from Prof. W. H. Hobbs, leader of the expedition, was radioed to the Greenland station at Julianahab and relayed by radio here.

ON WESTERN TRIP

Frank Clendennen and Robert E. Norris left Saturday, on a motor trip through the west. Their first stop will be at Ault, Colo., where they will visit relatives of Mr. Clendennen. After a few days there, they will drive on to Denver, Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, the Grand Canyons and many other points of interest. They expect to be gone about four weeks.

Forty-First Annual Women's Net Meet On

HELEN WILLS IS FAVORITE FOR HONORS

And Question Is Who Will Face Her In Finals At Forest Hills.

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 20.

The grass courts of the West Side Tennis club were dotted with figures in freshly starched white garments as the forty-first annual women's tennis championship started here today.

Helen Wills, Berkeley, Calif., holder of the national championships of the United States, France and England, drew a bye in the first round and was not seen in action today, but will meet Mrs. J. Saunders Taylor, New York, in the second round Tuesday.

The question about this tournament is not who will win, but who will meet Miss Wills in the final. Nothing less than a miracle can prevent Miss Wills from winning the title for the fifth time.

Last year it was Betty Nuthall, the English girl, who bounded into the final only to take a straight set defeat from the terrific stroking California queen.

There are no foreign tennis stars entered this year, but there are several young American stars any one of whom may blossom into a new star overnight. Marjorie Gladman, Palo Alto, Calif., girl who won the national girl's title recently, has all the earmarks of a coming champion. She can stroke with most any of them except Miss Wills.

Two other promising youngsters are Sarah Palfrey, 15, Boston, runner-up for the national girl's title, and Edith Cross, Pacific coast champion.

The seeded players follow:

1—Miss Wills.
2—Molla Mallory, New York.
3—Helen Jacobs, Santa Barbara, Calif.

4—Edith Cross, San Francisco.
5—Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin, Springfield, Mass.

6—Marjorie Morrill, Dedham, Mass.

7—Penelope Anderson, Richmond, Va.

8—Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, Santa Monica, Calif.

TO MEET ARMY TEAM

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 20.—Marquette University track team will meet West Point here, June 1, it was announced. The Marquette team lost a close dual meet to the West Pointers last year at the army school.

GIANTS AHEAD

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The New York Giants were on top in the National League pennant race today, as a result of three straight victories over the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Louis. The Giants won the final game yesterday, 3 to 2, the same score of the other two games. The Giants' lead is three percentage points.

REA L "SOCKERS" ARE SLATED FOR TUESDAY'S SHOW

Mason's Field To Be Dedicated As New Fight Arena With 24 Rounds On.

Some real sockers are slated to dedicate the new arena at Mason's Field Tuesday night at 8:30 sharp.

Arrangement has been made to seat a capacity crowd. In case of rain the show will go on because the arena has a cover so as to be both cool and give protection against rain. The hook which has been used with satisfactory results will again be in evidence. Twenty-four rounds of real action are carded.

In the feature bout of the evening Frankie Donahue will box Bernie Haynes for the welterweight title at 147 pounds. Both are training hard. The southside flash states he will knock out the champion in 3 rounds. But that will be a real feat for the clever.

Only games scheduled.

mechanic is the real fighter who carries a sock. Haynes is also a heavy socker, having dropped Sallor Flanagan in their last bout while Donahue dropped Roscoe Wallace in his last debut.

In another six round feature bout the hard hitting Gene Smith of Portsmouth, who fought such a great scrap with K. O. Vanfossen, will oppose a real socker in Kid Kline of Ashland, Ky. Both are training hard and look good.

Three fast 4 rounders will open the show, bringing together the best of local talent. Popular prices of 50c, ladies and kids 10c will remain.

Yesterdays hero, Bill Terry, New York Giants' first baseman, whose double in the fourth drove in two runs and enabled the McGrawmen to beat the St. Louis Cardinals and go into the National League lead. The score was 3 to 2, the same score of all three games in the series. Larry Benton, pitching his 23rd complete game, won his 20th victory of the season. He stopped a St. Louis rally in the ninth with the bases filled. Willie Sherdel held the Giants to six hits, but had one bad inning, in which the Giants made all their runs.

Baseball

A costly error by Bancroft in the ninth permitted the Chicago Cubs to beat the Brooklyn Robins 3 to 2. Bill Doak and Charley Root engaged in a pitching duel, poor support causing Doak's downfall.

The Cincinnati Reds went back into fourth place by beating the Boston Braves, 4 to 3. Dressen's double and Ford's single accounting for the winning run.

A crowd of 65,000 saw the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians divide a doubleheader. Martin Autry's home run with Morgan on base won the first Yankees 10 to 2. He allowed only one hit for the Indians, 3 to 2. Henry Johnson's brilliant pitching won the second game for the Yankees. No other games were played.

ROAD BUILDERS are "doing something about it"

ROAD BUILDERS are doing something about the effect of weather on road surfaces. For weather damages pavements unless they are built to resist it.

Water soaks into porous pavements. There it freezes; expands and cracks. Chain-shod cars and trucks gouge out the loose fragments and jar loose other fragments. Night after night of freezing and cracking, alternate with day after day of hammering and gouging. Result: Heavy repair cost or impassable roads.

Road builders are preventing destructive action of weather by surfacing pavements with brick. Brick is dense and non-porous. Brick admits no water to start destruction.

Brick is a uniform factory-made product—not subject to chemical change. Taxpayers are assured in advance of its long life and low maintenance.

REA L "SOCKERS" ARE SLATED FOR TUESDAY'S SHOW

Mason's Field To Be Dedicated As New Fight Arena With 24 Rounds On.

Some real sockers are slated to dedicate the new arena at Mason's Field Tuesday night at 8:30 sharp.

Arrangement has been made to seat a capacity crowd. In case of rain the show will go on because the arena has a cover so as to be both cool and give protection against rain. The hook which has been used with satisfactory results will again be in evidence. Twenty-four rounds of real action are carded.

In the feature bout of the evening Frankie Donahue will box Bernie Haynes for the welterweight title at 147 pounds. Both are training hard. The southside flash states he will knock out the champion in 3 rounds. But that will be a real feat for the clever mechanic is one real fighter who carries a sock. Haynes is also a heavy socker, having dropped Sailor Flanagan in their last bout while Donahue dropped Roscoe Wallace in his last debut.

In another six round feature bout the hard hitting Gene Smith of Portsmouth, who fought such a great scrap with K. O. Vanfossen, will oppose a real socker in Kid Kline of Ashland, Ky. Both are training hard and look good.

Three fast 4 rounders will open the show, bringing together the best of local talent. Popular prices of 50c, ladies and kids 10c will remain.

Baseball

Yesterday's hero: Bill Terry, New York Giants' first baseman, whose double in the fourth drove in two runs and enabled the McGrawmen to beat the St. Louis Cardinals and go into the National League lead. The score was 3 to 2, the same score of all three games in the series. Larry Benton, pitching his 23rd complete game, won his 20th victory of the season. He stopped a St. Louis rally in the ninth with the bases filled. Willie Sherdel held the Giants to six hits, but had one bad inning, in which the Giants made all their runs.

A costly error by Bancroft in the ninth permitted the Chicago Cubs to beat the Brooklyn Robins 3 to 2. Bill Doak and Charley Root engaged in a pitching duel, poor support causing Doak's downfall.

The Cincinnati Reds went back into fourth place by beating the Boston Braves, 4 to 3. Dressen's double and Ford's single accounting for the winning run.

A crowd of 65,000 saw the New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians divide a doubleheader. Martin Autry's home run with Morgan on base won the first Yankees 10 to 2. He allowed only game for the Indians, 3 to 2, six hits.

Henry Johnson's brilliant pitching won the second game for the No other games were played.

Everybody talks about the weather but nobody ever does anything about it.

—MARK TWAIN

ROAD BUILDERS are "doing something about it"

ROAD BUILDERS are doing something about the effect of weather on road surfaces. For weather damages pavements unless they are built to resist it.

Water soaks into porous pavements. There it freezes; expands and cracks. Chain-shod cars and trucks gouge out the loose fragments and jar loose other fragments. Night after night of freezing and cracking, alternate with day after day of hammering and gouging. Result: Heavy repair cost or impassable roads.

Road builders are preventing destructive action of weather by surfacing pavements with brick. Brick is dense and non-porous. Brick admits no water to start destruction.

Brick is a uniform factory-made product—not subject to chemical change. Taxpayers are assured in advance of its long life and low maintenance.

SELLING AUTOMOBILES TO THE WORLD
Some people have worried for years for fear the automobile industry was reaching a saturation point. They have feared that so many cars have been purchased that soon the country would be supplied and the industry would have to slow down.
But considering how fast cars wear out under the hard usage they get, it is always sure that a vast number of cars will have to be produced annually, simply to replace the old worn out ones.
And then each year a new group of people acquire cars for the first time.

Meanwhile there is an enormous market not yet tapped for this great industry in foreign lands.
We have to consider that the United States contains only about seven per cent of the population of the world. All the rest of the 33 per cent are going to want cars some day.

But it is remarked a large part of these people are savages and semi-barbarous folks, who have no money to buy cars, and would not appreciate them if they had them.
To which it can be replied, that one reason why they are barbarians is that they do not have modern improvements. Give a family of savages a car, and they are going to ride into the towns, and learn something, and send their children to school, and use those cars in doing some work.
Pretty soon all their neighbors will be ordering cars, and usually from America.

K. B. Thien, advertising manager of the general Motors export division, said in a recent address that he is one of those who believe that eventually the United States will find its principal automobile markets in those countries overseas, which have no automobile industry. If so, the automobile industry of our country is only at the beginning of its expansion.
There is a chance in it for many of the boys of Ohio.

FRIENDSHIP THAT PAYS
American recognition of the Chinese nationalist regime may turn out to have a decided dollars-and-cents value in the future.

Dr. Julius Klein of the Department of Commerce points out that China, potentially, is one of the world's greatest markets for manufactured articles. Even today China buys $110,000,000 worth of goods from this country annually.
Her future possibilities are almost unlimited.

Everybody knows what an important item good will is to a salesman. Doesn't it stand to reason that the way of the American manufacturer trying to sell goods in China is going to be made easier by this most recent display of American friendship?

China is going to be a great market. There are good materialistic reasons for hoping that our government does everything in its power to cultivate the good will of the Chinese people.

THE CANNIBAL MOSQUITOES Mrs. Charles B. Williams who lives in Flushing, L. I., is going to try to rid her neighborhood of mosquitoes by a new method. She is breeding from a French scientist a breed of cannibal mosquitoes which eat other mosquitoes instead of going around biting human beings.

There's an idea that we really like to obliterate mosquitoes is a praiseworthy idea under any circumstances; but to do it by turning more mosquitoes loose on them, so that the little pests will have to endure the very thing which they have been inflicting on the rest of us—well, it's just simply dandy, that's all.
More power to the cannibal mosquitoes. May they eat their fill.

TOURISTS' CHILD
TAKEN BY DEATH
AT LOCAL HOTEL

Dies After Lancaster Physician Had Pronounced Baby Was All Right.

Mary Dorise Kaps, the three-months-old daughter of Carl M.
and Muriel Noel Kaps, died Sunday morning at the American Hotel.
Death was due to dysentery.

The child was born at the home of her parents at Aliquipp, Pa., May 17, 1928.

The Kaps family started from their home in the Keystone state Saturday morning to motor to Mrs. Kaps' home in Portsmouth.
Before they reached Lancaster,
the child took ill, and they stopped and called on a doctor, who told them that the child would get along alright. They resumed their journey Sunday morning. Enroute to this city the child grew worse, and they stopped at the American Hotel and sought medical attention for the child.
Dr. Heffner was called. When he arrived, he saw at once that the child was dying, and the little patient passed away in a few minutes.
That death should visit the young couple far from home, when they had barely started on their vacation, and to lose their first child among strangers was most distressing, and the mother of the little girl nearly collapsed with grief.
The hotel employees did everything in their power to assuage the tense situation. The death bed scene was far different from that of a home where all its comforts in case of sickness, can be secured at a moment's notice.
The child was well when the family left home and her sickness developed on the way.
Besides the child's parents, one brother survives.
The remains were prepared for burial by Funeral Director M. S.
Rinehart, and accompanied by her parents, were taken to Port-

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.
ALED A RAY, pretty country girl, and Gary Chester, young engineer, are in love. Aldea, working in New York as a stenographer, is living with Marise de Rense, whose sister, Goldie, young and sophisticated, is working with Clive Mortimer, ne'er-do-well Englishman, in a blackmailing scheme. Goldie and Clive receive a "commission" to arrange a party for a wealthy ruler and guests.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXIII
ALED A sat by the open window of the Long Island inn to which Gary Chester had just brought her, and with a heart a-tune to happiness she listened to his voice, surveyed his face.

It was a glorious June evening.
This was the first occasion on which he had driven her to a road house. Indeed, it was the first occasion that he had motored her anywhere.

Beneath the window shimmered
the waters of Long Island Sound.
Yachts lay at anchor, just like snowy birds. It was not yet dark, but lights gleamed here and there like brightest jewels on the water, and in the pale blue vault of heaven there hung the crescent of a slim young moon.

"Ah! wish a wish, and turn a penny!" breathed Aldea. She felt marvelously thrilled tonight.

Those handsome eyes of Gary Chester held a warm and shiny look.

He flipped a coin upon the table, turned it, laughed and said:
"I wish this to be the first of many, many similar occasions!
And if a very lovely little lady is enjoying herself only half as much as I, I'll be content!"

"But you shouldn't have wished it out aloud. The 'new man' wish is private." Her voice was low and sweetly provocative.

"He leaned across the tiny table toward her. Oh! pretty she was,
with the evening light upon her hair. The curly tendrils sprayed like ferns across her smooth white forehead, lending mystery and depth to the forget-me-not blue eyes that drew him irresistibly.

"If you only knew the way you look, tonight! If you could just see yourself!"

Softly she laughed, and shyly.
Such a beguiling sweetness in her manner! "This little Cinderella is a very ordinary girl!"

"She isn't! She's my fairy princess! I shan't let you mislead; the loveliest little lady I have ever met!"

"Ah! flatterer!" Like melting waves on a sunlit shore, like chords of a harp swept in delimouth, the former home of the mother, for interment.

TIRE SALE GOES

So great has been the success of the "Cash and Carry" tire sale inaugurated last week by Bockett Motor Sales, that this dealer announces he will continue to sell Oldfield, Courier and Airway tires in all sizes and types, at the new low prices for another week.
Since the first announcement of the sale, increasing numbers of car owners are patronizing this tire dealer, as they realize the advantage of buying their requirements from an established local company, well-known for its reliable service and high standard of merchandise.

The sentiment behind the popular "Buy at Home" movement is also responsible for the increasing trend of tire buyers to concentrate their patronage on the local dealer, whose welfare is identical with the city's and whose policies are the result of long familiarity with local requirements.

This dealer's rapidly expanding business, and his leading position in the community, accounts for his association with the Firestone Company, the largest exclusive tire producer in the world. It is at this manufacturer's great, modern plants in Akron that the high grade, standard Oldfield, Courier and Airway tires are produced.

The local tire firm's conservative management results in low overhead, its large buying capacity commands longer discounts

SELLING AUTOMOBILES TO THE WORLD

Some people have worried for years for fear the automobile industry was reaching a saturation point. They have feared that so many cars have been purchased that soon the country would be supplied and the industry would have to slow down.

But considering how fast cars wear out under the hard usage they get, it is always sure that a vast number of cars will have to be produced annually, simply to reproduce the old worn out ones. And then each year a new group of people acquire cars for the first time.

Meanwhile there is an enormous market not yet tapped for this great industry in foreign lands. We have to consider that the United States contains only about seven per cent of the population of the world. All the rest of the 43 per cent are going to want cars some day.

But, it is remarked a large part of these people are savages and semi-barbarous folks, who have no money to buy cars, and would not appreciate them if they had them. To which it can be replied, that one reason why they are barbarians is that they do not have modern improvements. "Ah! flatterer! Like melting waves on a sunlit shore, like chords of a harp swept in delicious harmony, that voice of his, with its tender notes, caught at her heart.

"I speak the truth. It seems to me that—that—for the first time in my life—I was stammering now, so earnest was this Gary—I've met the one person I always dreamed about—and never hoped to find on earth—the ideal girl!"

Little shivers of joy raced through her nerves. Tears ached at her throat. Could this be heaven, this rustic roadhouse? Angels' voices combined in the deep, tender tones of this one man?

Because of the happiness within her heart she could have cried. She said, in a funny, breathless little way: "With you—your knowledge of the world—and people—it's difficult to credit—that you can really mean—those things?"

His hand—a finely modeled hand, with strong brown fingers—closed on hers.

"I've never meant anything so much in all my life before! You can imagine—looking and looking for something—and never finding it!" His voice shook with ingenueness.

"And then, all of a sudden—meeting the girl!"

She thought, deliciously: "Is this a dream? Magic of a Summer evening? Mirage?"

Could it be real? She and this handsome Gary Chester, whom so romantically, yet achingly, she'd thought about, these many lonely days . . . alone together here, just he and she . . . a wonderful three hours of bliss ahead of them . . . his voice . . . those words he spoke . . . a heavenly music in her ears . . .

Intensity of feeling made her silent. With misted eyes and the dream in her heart—his hand gripping hers across the little table—she could only look into those eyes of his, and pray the dream become reality!

While Goldie, in her tiny flower shop off Broadway, plotted and planned with Clive and Mr. Smithson for an evening's hectic entertainment to amuse the latter's out-of-town customers—promising to supply three "live wires" (plus herself!) who would eat, dance and make merry, and be fascinating—Alela, dining with Gary Chester in the quaint Long Island inn.

Honeysuckle peered in at the open window. Instead of jazz, the orchestra was playing, very softly, operatic airs. They were sympathetic and romantic Latin, these performers. As their fingers swept the strings of violin and 'cello and the notes of the piano, their dark eyes traveled with respectful interest to the couple in the corner who were so absorbed in one another.

They were talking earnestly together now.

"I've always thought I was a bit dull—by that, I mean, old-fashioned," Alela was explaining. "I'm not keen on late, rowdy parties, or a lot of people all together, or cabaret shows. I so enjoy a tete-a-tete when you're with a person who really interests you."

"As now?" Gary Chester raised his finely penciled brows. There was a pleading, and at the same time a happy eagerness in his fine eyes that clearly showed his feeling for this girl.

Alela thrilled to that warm query.

"I love this evening—every bit of it! If—if you only knew how unusual it is for me—to go out alone and dine with anybody—and of course New York and its surroundings being so new, and all—"

"So that's it?" He made a comic, rueful face. "It's just the novelty? The company counts for nothing—?"

She gave the strong brown hand that held hers an impulsive, little-girl pressure, unconscious that she did so, but anxious to set things right.

"There isn't anybody I'd sooner be with! I'm as—as happy as a queen! Oh, Mr. Chester—"

"Make it 'Gary!'"

"Isn't it—too soon? I mean—oh, I'm so stupid!—not a bit like the girls you're accustomed to—but you see I haven't really gone out a lot or met people, and I want you to—to respect me—and not get an idea that I call people by their names right away before I've got to know them." She spoke breathlessly, her face sweetly shy.

"So I'm just 'people'? You're quite right. You don't understand me yet." And then he added, very softly, very gently: "Miss Alela, think what you like but already I have set you on a pedestal!"

TIRE SALE GOES OVER BIG SO IT IS TO CONTINUE

So great has been the success of the "Cash and Carry" tire sale inaugurated last week by Beckett Motor Sales, that this dealer announces he will continue to sell Oldfield, Courier and Airway tires in all sizes and types, at the new low prices for another week.

Since the first announcement of the sale, increasing numbers of car owners are patronizing this tire dealer, as they realize the advantage of buying their requirements from an established local company, well-known for its reliable service and high standard of merchandise.

The sentiment behind the popular "Buy at Home" movement is also responsible for the increasing trend of tire buyers to concentrate their patronage on the local dealer, whose welfare is identical with the city's and whose policies are the result of long familiarity with local requirements.

This dealer's rapidly expanding business, and his leading position in the community, accounts for his association with the Firestone Company, the largest exclusive tire producer in the world. It is at this manufacturer's great, modern plants in Akron that the high grade, standard Oldfield, Courier and Airway tires are produced.

The local tire firm's conservative management results in low overhead, its large buying capacity commands longer discounts

Buick's adjustable steering wheel provides, for the first time in motor car history, a made-to-measure driving position!

This same fine convenience—this same matchless comfort and luxury—are apparent in every phase of Buick design and operation—in the deep soft upholstery—in full width rear seats providing plenty of room for three adult passengers—in velvety clutch action—in finger-tip steering ease—and above all in the unrivalled smoothness with which the Silver Anniversary Buick rides even the roughest roads.

See this epic car! Drive it! Test the new and exclusive adjustable seat! Prove to yourself that here, indeed, is the finest motor car and the greatest value America has ever produced!

THEATRES

"SKYSCRAPER"

LON CHANEY, FOLKS

Found—the ideal combination of the screen.

It is Lon Chaney, Herbert Brenon, and "Laugh, Clown, Laugh."

It is hard to say whose is the triumph in this mighty new drama, now playing at the Metropolitan Theatre. Is it Chaney's faultless acting, Brenon's artistic direction, or the poignant force of the mighty story that makes it something unlike any film drama in years?

Or—is it just the combination? The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama is a little of everything that the screen can show. There is spectacle, tense drama, comedy, thrill, beauty that passes description.

EAGLES TROUNCE COLUMBUS TEAM; SCORE IS 4 TO 3

Stoker and Beatty Pull Sensational Plays in Tight Ball Game Sunday.

The Circleville Eagles won a well played game Sunday afternoon from the Jones Transfers of Columbus at Mason Field. The score of 4 to 1 speaks well for the pitching of Pettibone who went the whole route for the locals. So well did he pitch that the visitors were able to gather only two hits off his offerings, and he set nine of the Columbus batters down on strikes.

The locals played a wonderful defensive game and had it not been for an overthrow of second base by Catcher Davis the visitors would have received a shutout.

The fielding of Stoker and Beatty featured the contest. The Eagle third sacker handled five chances without a wobble, and on several occasions he turned what seemed like sure hits into easy outs by making spectacular catches. Sunday's game was the fourth contest in which Stoker has played here and he has handled 22 chances without an error.

Beatty, the "Bird" right fielder, raced over to the foul line and made a one-handed catch of a line drive that was a sure ticket for three bases.

Rader and Birkhead each hit safely on two trips to the plate, while five of the other local batters connected for safe blows.

On next Sunday afternoon the Eagles will meet the fast Linden Gophers at Mason Field. Without a doubt the Gophers have the best team to show here this season and if the local aggregation is able to defeat them, then we can begin to feel that we have a real ball team in Circleville.

The lineup and box score of Sunday's game:

	AB.	R.	H.	A.	O.	E.

HE'S RACE CHAMP

ALTOONA, Pa., Aug. 20.—Louis Meyer of California, today held two important automobile racing championships. He averaged 117 miles an hour, covering the distance in 1 hour, 42 minutes, 54 seconds. The officials ignored an injunction, issued by Judge Fleming of Center county, seeking to prevent the race and held it anyway.
